In 1806, Thomas Leavitt's survey for Carrigan's map contained a note of reference to "Leavitt's Island in the Hampton river." It was once called Sargent's Island, and in 1911 is described as a piece of high land surrounded by the Hampton marshes; it is somewhat ledgy, has a small grove of willow trees, is touched on one point by the Hampton River, and is much visited in the summer months by camping-out and picnic parties. This was doubtless where John Leavitt lived.

John Leavitt died intestate and insolvent. Mch. 5, 1770, his widow Mary petitioned and the son Jonathan, called "Mariner," was appointed administrator, and Mch. 7th gave a bond of five hundred pounds, the sureties being Christopher Toppan and William Davison, Cordwainer, all of Hampton. His inventory was 30 pounds and debts 73—.

Jonathan's account as administrator, dated Nov. 15, was acknowledged at Hampton Falls, N. H., Nov. 27, 1744; no division of real estate appears, the account showing only the various expenses with which Jonathan charges himself. "A certain tract of 16 acres, commonly known as Sargent's Island," is called estate of John. See Exeter, Vol. 106, p. 496.

He is said to have had a brother with General Wolfe at Quebec in 1759.

He went with his father-in-law Francis Peabody and his brothers-in-law Symonds and White to St. John in 1764.

Rev. W. O. Raymond, Rector of St. Mary's Church, St. John, N. B., a careful historian, says Jonathan Leavitt was of N. H., because a Jonathan deposed Aug. 31, 1792, in a suit in the Supreme Court of N. B. "that his name was Jonathan Leavitt, that he is 45 years of age, that he is a mariner and has had his usual place of residence in City of St. John: that he removed from the Province now State of New Hampshire, to the river St. John some time in the year 1764." Letter of July 4, 1905, of A. W. Savary of Annapolis Royal, N. S., to V. C. Sanborn.

In another deposition he states that from 1764 to 1774 he was master of one of the vessels of the Company and when in St. John Harbor lived in the family of Simonds and White who lived together at Portland Point.

Raymond calls Jonathan and Daniel both Leavitt, and brothers.

Will of Sept. 10, 1809, probated Feb. 13, 1811, at St. John, N. B., Canada, of Jonathan Leavitt of St. John, mariner, mentions wife; names sons Daniel and Francis Executors; sons Thomas, youngest son George, Henry, William, James and John; eldest dau. Elizabeth, dau. Charlotte; "property at Miramachie to seven sons equally."

Note by W. P. Bacon, Daniel or Francis is called Henry.

NOTES.

Jonathan Leavitt	bp. Hampton, N. H., 1746.	d. St. John, New Brunswick, 1811.
Daniel Lovett	b. 1753.	d. St. John, New Brunswick, 1833.

80th year.

Both were mariners. Were they brothers?

John Leavitt, b. England, 1608, of Dorchester, Mass., 1634, and Hingham, whose sons Moses and Samuel went to Exeter, N. H.; Thomas Leavitt, b. England, 1615 (?), a settler of Exeter and Hampton Falls, N. H., about 1643, and John Lovett who came to Salem, Mass., in 1638, whose descendants were in Beverly and Mendon, exhibit no Daniel born 1753 in vital statistics, church nor probate, and only Thomas exhibits a Jonathan born 1746, in church records only. The late Mr. Rufus Leavitt of Melrose, Mass., said John, Thomas and John were all brothers, named Leavitt, and from Hingham, England. I have all the vital statistics and church records of New Hampshire down to 1760, and the name is spelled every possible way.

No printed nor manuscript genealogy exists.

Rev. W. O. Raymond of St. John, a careful historian, calls Jonathan and Daniel both Leavitt and brothers.

Three great grandchildren of Jonathan are living (1911) in St. John, Miss Grace Leavitt, Robert T. Leavitt and A. Gordon Leavitt, the second of whom thinks Jonathan and Daniel were brothers, that they quarreled and Daniel changed his name to Lovett.

A grandson of Daniel, and son of George L., George F. Lovett, living in 1912 in Melrose, Mass., writes in Feb., 1912, "Some 60 years ago, I, a boy in St. John, used to hear my father speak of the children of Jonathan as his cousins," and he is sure that a quarrel of many years caused Daniel to change his name to Lovett. Clarence Ward, a genealogist in St. John, expresses the same opinion. In a St. John real estate record Daniel's name appears as Leavitt, corrected to Lovett. That he called himself Daniel Leavitt in 1788 appears in Register of Deeds, Vol. 143, page 393, in Exeter, N. H., where "I Daniel Leavitt of Province of New Brunswick convey to Michael Brown, Apr. 16, 1788, marsh in Hampton Falls."

In his will only Lovett is written.

A letter of May 3, 1798, written by Daniel's son, Daniel, Jr., to his mother while his father and he were on a trip to Boston, Mass., says, "Papa has been to Salisbury, (N. H.), all our relations and acquaintances are well there."

A letter written early in the 19th century from London, N. H., by a sister of Daniel, to him was addressed "Capt. Daniel Leavitt," and said she had not heard from him for a long time.

Daniel's will of St. John, Jan. 13, 1820, probated there July 14, 1834, names wife Mary and the four children, George and the widow Mary, executors.

A gravestone in St. John has "Sally, wife of Daniel Lovett died Dec. 6, 1901."

As John Leavitt and his wife Mary Tilton married in 1739, and no record of births of their children is found except baptisms of John Tilton 1740, Joseph 1742, and Jonathan 1746, and, as John the father died 1770 leaving Mary a widow, it is likely that there were other children and that Daniel was one.

SEELY.

I. ROBERT SEELY b. d. New York 1667.
 m. 1st
 m. 2nd, New York, N. Y., Dec. 22, 1666.
 MARY WALKER.

Robert was in Watertown, Mass., in 1630, was a freeman May 18, 1631, and owned land there, and in Wethersfield, Ct., in 1635, and owned land there and his lot can be identified there today at the corner of Plant Lane and Broad St. Sold out in 1638 and joined the New Haven Colony. Was one of the signers of the "Fundamental Agreement," a curiosity in the history of civil government. This was on June 4th, 1639—and at the session of the Court he was appointed Marshal of the Colony. Reappointed 1640-41-42, serving with credit. In 1643 he had 179 pounds and four in the family. In 1643 he was sent to co-operate with Capt. Underhill against the Indians in aid of the Dutch—in May, 1646 he sold his New Haven home to John Bassett. His "Seate in church was in the 4th seate of Middle Seats" for men and "Sister Seely sat in the 6th Seate in the Womans seates in the Middle." He asked leave to go to England about this time and the court granted it, but it doesn't appear that he went. He still appears in New Haven as Lieut. 1646 and 47 and in 1648 was made Captain of Artillery—was also rate maker and leather sealer. In 1649 he wanted to resign, but the court did not accept and the court thought of helping him to buy a house in New Haven. In 1652 he appears as owning land at Stamford. In 1654 he was sent to help the L. I. Indians with powder and lead to "keep friends with them." In this year he asked pay for his services in 1653 and 1654 in the "design on the Dutch," but the court did not pay him as they said they did not "absolutely require his attendance," but they gave him 5 pounds for his "encouragement in any service."

In 1662 the court awarded him 15 pounds and gave him the use of a house at Saybrook where he had charge of the fort and ammunition and in Feb. of that year, the town of Huntington sent a boat to Saybrook for him. In 1663 he was appointed a commissioner to the town of Huntington, L. I., and the same year he had a controversy with the town of Stratford about his rights in land there and the court adjudged that the town of Stratford pay him 25 pounds and he made over to them all his right and title. He was appointed Chief Military Officer of Huntington, L. I., at this time. In 1665 he with Ogden and others started Elizabeth, N. J., and held land there in 1666. He was one of eight named-patentees of Huntington, L. I. 1667, the General Court of Conn. abated the widow Seely's rates for "Last year and this year." In 1668 his widow applied to the court in New York for administration and on Oct. 19th, letters were granted by the court (see Surrogate's Office, N. Y. City—Wills and Administrations, 1665-1683, Book I). His widow sold, Nov. 2, 1668, his land in Elizabeth, N. J., to Gov. Philip Carteret for 44 pounds. In July, 1669, his widow through Capt. Joseph Manning, "Executed in trust unto the aforesaid widow," sold "lands in Huntington, L. I." In the instrument Mrs. Seely refers to Capt. Manning as "my trusty and well beloved brother."

The name has been spelled: Cilley, Cylley, Scillee, Sale, Sallie, Seeley, Seel, Seley, Sely, Seilley, Sela, Selah, Sele, Selie, Selil, Sellee, Selley, Selly, Silly, Silley, Silloy, Sylley.

He graduated at Yale in 1776, and received the degree of M. A. in 1792.

The following is from Dexter's "Yale Biographies":

"Nothing is known of his history after graduation until he appears St. John, N. B., as the Secretary of the board of directors of the new settlement after the arrival there in 1783, of the refugees from the States. He became a landed proprietor in St. John, but soon removed into the country to Long Reach, in Kings County (north of St. John). While residing there he was married Nov. 9, 1786, to Charlotte, the eighth child and third daughter of Stephen and Elizabeth Wiggins, of Newburgh, N. Y., the widow of Stephen Hustice, a Loyalist, who had emigrated to St. John.

In 1787 he removed to Sussex, in the same county, where he established a school for Indians, under the patronage of the London Society for Propagating the Gospel among the Indians. A year or two later the inhabitants of Sussex, who were without any clergyman, recommended Mr. Arnold to Bishop Inglis of Nova Scotia, for ordination, and he was accordingly ordained (perhaps in 1791-2), and served from that date until his death as rector of the Church of England in Sussex. He also ministered to several missions in the vicinity, and traveled over a wide district as missionary of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel. In January, 1829, one of his sons became his assistant, but he continued for five years longer to be actively employed.

His wife died in Sussex on Nov. 23, 1831, in her 66th year, and he followed her on Apr. 9, 1834, in his 79th year. They had five sons and two daughters, all of whom survived him except one son who died in infancy.

The two youngest sons were graduated at King's College, Nova Scotia, in 1819 and 1825 respectively, and became clergymen.

The author of a sketch of his life printed at St. John in 1792 describes Mr. Arnold as 'good-looking and of commanding appearance, somewhat over six feet in height. In business matters he was honorable, prudent and sagacious. Beneath a dignified and serious manner, which some mistakenly attributed to haughtiness, he carried a nature both friendly and genial. He was a temperate, moral and good living man. As a pastor he was much respected.'

An engraving from a portrait is contained in Mr. Allison's sketch.

 ANN BORODELL (dau. John) d. Sept. 26, 1712, æ. 97.

(He m. 1st, Bridget Thompson, d. Roxbury, Mass., Aug. 1643.)
 After his wife's death he returned to England, served under Cromwell, won distinction, was wounded at Naseby, nursed at the house of John Borodell by his daughter Ann, whom he married. He came back to Roxbury 1645, removed to Stonington and had seven children. He was Deputy 1671; Provo. Marshall of the Narragansett Country, Feb., 1676; Captain, May, 1676. Capt. George and Ann were both remarkable for their magnificent personal appearance and for force of mind and character. They had a foremost place in society, where she was always called "Lady Ann." He had no equal in warfare against the Indians, except perhaps Capt. Mason. It was he and Capt. Avery who left Norwich Mch. 30, 1676, and killed or took 44 Indians. They captured Canonchet, the Sachem of the Narragansetts, the son of Miantonomoh. He has been described as "the Miles Standish of the Settlement," but he was a greater and more brilliant soldier.

MARGERY (HOAR) MATTHEWS d. Mch. 10, 1687.

He came to this country, Feb. 2, 1653, O. S., and was ordained Mch. 17, 1639, teacher of the Church of Braintree when about 22 years old. As his brother, Rev. Thomas Flint, who was "a man of talents, Christian character, wealth and benevolence," came to Concord, Mass., in 1637, from Matlock in Derbyshire, Rev. Henry Flint is supposed to have come from the same place.

In Boston Old Town Records, "he had a grant of land made to him of 80 acres of land, at the Mount by the town of Boston in 1639," and "July 29, 1644, the proceeds of the sale of the land within the Common fence of Braintry, near Knight's Neck, belonging to Boston, was ordered paid to him for his own use" because of his great loss by fire.

She was a sister of President Hoar of Harvard College (1672-5), who married a daughter of Lord Lisle.

His will of Jan. 24, 1652, mentions wife, but does not give her name. Mentions son, Josias and son Seth; mentions daughters, but does not give their names or number. Will allowed July 2, 1668, and names son Josiah "being grown up," executor with his wife executrix. The inventory describes "Henry Flint as Teacher of the Christ at Braintry" and is dated June 24, 1668. The total amount of the estate is 1297 pounds. The inventory is sworn to by "Mrs. Margery" as the inventory of "her late husband's estate," July 2, 1668.

He was ordained by the bishop of Exeter at Silferton, Devon, May 23, 1619. He preached also at Exeter. He was one of the two ministers of the Dorchester Colony, chosen to office at Plymouth in March, 1629. He came in the "Mary and John" and came as the pastor and head of the religious colony, reaching Nantasket May 30, 1630. He settled at Mattapan, soon called Dorchester. He became a Freeman May 18, 1631.

In 1636 the mass of the Dorchester Colonists, with accessions from Newtown (Cambridge) and Watertown, in all about 100, went through the wilderness in the summer, on a slow march of fourteen days, singing and praying as they went and began at what is now Windsor, Ct., the first white settlement of Connecticut. Thither Mr. Warham soon followed, as their pastor from Sept., 1636, to Apr., 1670. He was regarded by the whole colony of Connecticut as the "principal pillar and father of the colony."

WIGGINS.

I. THOMAS WIGGINS b. d. Jamaica, N. Y., per. abt. 1683.
m.

The Wiggins of Southold and Jamaica, N. Y., were perhaps from Southwold, Co. Suffolk, England. John, aged 15, first appears in Southold in 1656. Thomas, Feb. 18, 1656, was granted a town-lot at the Jamaica town meeting. Thompson's History of L. I., 1843, p. 97, says: "Nov. 25, 1656, Thomas Wiggins was one of 20 who bought land from the Indians." He also bought land in 1679.

His will of Apr. 21, 1728 (N. Y. Wills, 11-66), names "wife Rebecca: brother Gershom Wiggins of N. J., brother Josias lately deceased and his sons William and Josias: sister-in-law Mary Williamsen and her daughters Rebecca Williamsen and Mary Williamsen: wife and two nephews, Executors." That it was Thomas Wiggins, Jr., and not his father that married the Woolsey, is proved by the following:

In the will is "I leave my wife Rebecca the 20 acres I bought of William Foster."

In the town record is "Feb. 16, 1683-4, William Foster of Jamaica has land adjoining Thomas Wiggins, Sr., which he sells to Thomas Wiggins, Jr."
